

Society Watches Polo Tournament in a Downpour

Crowd Cares Not for Clothes as It Watches Play at Meadow Brook.

Interest in polo was strikingly illustrated yesterday afternoon by the crowd that filled the grandstand boxes and seats at the west side of the international polo field at the Meadow Brook Club at Westbury. Weather meant nothing to the devotees of this sport, and as far as could be seen not one left his seat, even in the midst of a down-pour just before intermission. All were provided with heavy outer garments and hats that in a measure kept out the rain, but it was a bedraggled looking throng that left the field for motors or special trains at the end of the match.

Harry Payne Whitney sat throughout the match in his box on the top of the club stand, but she did not seem to mind weather conditions, although her fur collar looked as if it had been dragged through a brook and the plumes on her hat also suffered. With Mrs. Whitney were Miss Eleanor Sears of Boston, whose costume was in quite the same condition as that of Mrs. Whitney's; Mr. Alfonso de Navarro and Mr. Seward Cary.

Among others in boxes of the club stand were Mr. and Mrs. Alexander S. Webb, with whom were Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Douglas Russell; Mr. and Mrs. W. Goadby Low, with whom were the Misses Low and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Main Post, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Brokaw, Miss Julia Brokaw, Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Gray, Miss Janet Plush, John Clinton Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Whigham, Mr. and Mrs. Buell Hollister, Mrs. William H. Erhart, Mrs. Juan M. Ceballos, Miss Louisa Ceballos, Mrs. Morgan Belmont, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Iselin, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney W. Fish, Miss Mary Hoyt Wiborg, Mr. and Mrs. W. Albert Pease, Jr., Miss Patty Pease, Mrs. Charles A. Van Rensselaer, Mrs. William A. Burnham, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Curtis, W. de Forest Manice, Mr. Charles H. Thieriot, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Grace, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ho-bart Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wil-lets, Percy R. Payne, 24, Lawrence W. Waterbury, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Warner Baltazzi, Mr. and Mrs. Edison Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Paris R. Russell, J. J. Keenan, Egerton L. Winthrop, E. Charles Potter, Mrs. Loomis L. White, William S. Fanshawe, W. S. Fanshawe White and McLane Van Ingen.

One of the interested onlookers in the club enclosure was Mr. Jean de Prindville Waddington of Paris, whose marriage to Miss Gladys Olcott, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Olcott, will take place next Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. Waddington is one of the best polo players in the French army. He came with Mrs. Olcott and his fiancée, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howard Graham and Mr. Lawrence Atterbury.

There was a large gathering from the horse show at Piping Rock who came after the morning show and the numerous luncheons that had been given at the Piping Rock Club. Among them were Mr. Frederic Potts Moore, who brought with him Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Granniss, Miss May Granniss, Mr. Harold Fitz Gerald and Mr. Thomas H. Wright of St. Louis.

Others from Piping Rock were Mr. and Mrs. Rufus L. Peterson, who came with Mr. and Mrs. George S. Brewster and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver G. Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Cravath, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Larkin, Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. F. Egerton Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Horatio S. Shonard, Mr. and Mrs. Jorge Andre, Mr. and Mrs. William Armstrong Greer, Mr. and Mrs. W. Eugene Kimball, Miss Marion Willard, Mrs. Victor Cumcock, Miss Grace Helen Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. A. Delano Wicks, Mr. and Mrs. William McNair, Mrs. Reginald L. Hutchison, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Murray, Mrs. Lewis B. Gawtry, the Misses Gawtry, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howard Gamble, Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Phelps, Mr. Sumner Bullard, Mrs. Middleton S. Burrill, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Coe, Mrs. Stephen H. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Pratt and Mr. and Mrs. G. Hunter Brown.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hamilton Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Noel McVicker, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Fahys, Miss Betty Hamill, Miss Elinor Stewart, Joseph Fahys 2d, James B. Taylor, Mrs. Richard Trimble, Miss Margaret Trimble, Mrs. P. A. S. Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. E. Reeve Herritt, Mrs. J. Howell Carroll, Mrs. Henry W. Lowe and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Baker.

Among others in boxes or seats of the grand stand were Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Iselin, who motored from New York, and with them were Mrs. Francis de R. Wissmann and Mrs. Iselin's niece, Miss Sylvia Van Rensselaer.

Mountbattens Off on Tour of West in Private Car

Colonel Thompson's Guests
Plan to Stop First at Niagara Falls.

Lord Louis Mountbatten and his bride started yesterday on their transcontinental trip as guests of Col. Robert M. Thompson after five hectic days of varied experiences in New York. For more than a month they will tour in a private car to the Pacific coast and back, returning to New York about the middle of November by way of Florida to be guests here of Brig.-Gen. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt. The royal bridegroom's leave of absence as an officer in the British navy will expire before Christmas, when he will report back for duty on board the H. M. S. Repulse.

Col. Thompson assembled his party, that also includes his daughter, Mrs. Stephen H. P. Pell, and Lieut. and Mrs. Nielson, at the Ritz-Carlton where Lord and Lady Mountbatten had been stopping, at 9 o'clock. They soon were lost in the mass of hurrying travelers that jammed the concourse of the Grand Central Terminal, but were extricated promptly by specially designated officials of the railroad and were conducted to the private car attached to the Mohawk, a Chicago express that started west at 10:10 o'clock.

The car was uncoupled at Albany and it is believed the party will do some shooting in the Adirondacks. The next stop will be at Niagara Falls.

New Ideals Seen by Stanislawski in Drama's Realm

Russian Actor Says War and Suffering Have Changed
People's Outlook.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD.
New York Herald Bureau,
Berlin, Oct. 7.

The world is on the eve of a new form of drama, Constantin Stanislawski, the distinguished head of the Moscow Art Theater, told THE NEW YORK HERALD correspondent here on his way to Paris and New York. There can be no gainsaying the fact that Stanislawski still towers above other actors, but his height is relieved by his ample cordiality. Only his white hair marks the decades of his life.

"War and sufferings," he said, "have changed people's outlook. Although I don't know myself what the new theater will be, and all are still groping about, I'm sure there is a general expectancy of a new ideal."

After playing in Germany, Stanislawski comes to the conclusion that even during Russia's decade of isolation, human nature has not been altered.

He finds people the world over confronted with similar problems and longings. They are tired of hypocrisy and pompous artificiality, he believes, and want either the real tragedy of life or the fantastic unreality of the dream world, not the petty social drama. Stanislawski thinks most scenery superfluous.

"If I had my way," he declared, "I should play before a black screen. The trouble with European producers is that the attempting spectacular effects they ignore the actor. A great actor should be able to communicate an illusion without elaborate mechanism."

He is looking forward eagerly to his company's New York engagement under the direction of Morris Guest, when his program will consist of the classics that have made his theater famous on the Continent. Stanislawski's son, who is suffering with tuberculosis, has been brought from Russia to be placed in a sanatorium while his father is in America.

FOR CATHOLIC ACTORS GUILD.

The Catholic Actors Guild opens its season each year with a free entertainment for its members and friends. This year—the ninth of the Guild—a scene of "The Old Soak" will be one of the features of the entertainment, which will be given in the Plymouth Theater Sunday evening, October 22. The speakers will be Augustus Thomas, the Rev. Martin E. Fahy, chaplain of the Guild; Grant Mitchell, leading player of "Kempy"; Gene Buck, former vice-president of the Guild, and the Rev. Dr. John Talbot Smith, founder of the Guild. The presentation of "The Old Soak" is by special permission of Mr. Arthur Hopkins and the first scene of the last act will be given, with Harry Beresford, Robert E. O'Connor and Robert McWade. Other artists who will entertain are Miss Mary Milburn, leading lady in "Molly Darling"; Hal Skelly and Queens Smith of "Orange Blossoms"; Russell Mack and Miss Louise Allen of the "Gingham Girl."
